Deciding Democracy:
Voting, Representation,
⚖ and the Supreme Court ⚖

The Supreme Court's recent limitations on the Voting Rights Act have generated great concerns.

- What are the implications of this decision and a similar one in 2013?
- How do these decisions intersect with the Court's gerrymandering and campaign finance jurisprudence?
- What do these decisions mean for democracy in the U.S. today?

Join an on-line conversation with:

Allison Riggs
Associate Justice
Supreme Court of North Carolina

Wayne Steger
Prof. of Political Science
DePaul University

Christina Beeler
Senior Counsel
Midwest Voting Rts., Chicago Lawyers' Cttee for Civil Rights

Wednesday, October 14, 2:40-4:10

Sponsored by DePaul Political Science Department

Moderated by Christina Rivers

Zoom in here or here!